

TOWNSENDITES CASH RECORDS IN BAD MESS

So Confused Expert Accountants Failed to Unravel Them

By SCOTT HENSHAW
Associated Press Staff Writer
WASHINGTON, April 3.—A special United States House of Representatives investigating committee Thursday recorded surprise testimony that the financial records of the Townsendites are so "muddled and confused" that four expert accountants failed to unravel them in a fortnight's work.

Coincident with this disclosure, Robert Clement, resigned National secretary, testified some $1700 collected at a recent Townsend mass meeting in Los Angeles was not turned over to the committee.

John Bloodworth, Detroit accountant, testified an examination of the Townsend books had left him staff of accounts unable to certify as to assets and liabilities of the organization.

CAMROSE FACES HOUSE SHORTAGE

CAMROSE, April 3.—A considerable housing shortage in Camrose was brought to the attention of the Camrose Board of Trade on Wednesday evening. Assistance under the Dominion Housing scheme was considered. At present several families cannot locate suitable houses.

Retiring President T. E. Tappin, in reviewing the year's work, also suggested a swimming pool in addition to a modern club, auto camping ground. Camrose lacks swimming pool facilities since the "Lake of Crick" was dammed up as a water reservoir.

G. R. A. Rice, manager of Radio Station CFCN, Edmonton, and co-sponsor of the "Camrose Radio Air" programs was a guest speaker at the meeting.

Members of the executive were elected and next Monday officers will be elected.

Alex. Burgess, Jack Pratt, O. Matheson, Laurie Byers, Jack Woodcock, C. A. Renning, J. A. Long and B. E. Lawrence will represent the town. Angus Watson, John Kitchin, Sherman Fox, Wm. Westerman, the rural district on the executive.

Hon. W. N. Chant, minister of agriculture and member for Camrose was named honorary president of the board.

MEGS ESCAPES AN INJUNCTION AGAINST "YIPPS"

CLEVELAND, April 3.—Megs, pugny and lo-cholereded Scotch Terrier, "conducted herself as a perfect lady" in the eyes of Common Pleas Judge Samuel Silbert Thursday and escaped an injunction against a "yip" in her own back yard.

A neighbor in the fashionable Edgewater Drive neighborhood, Mrs. Florence Abel, asked an injunction against the dog's disturbing the peace in the neighborhood.

A serious nervous heart ailment, Mrs. Abel came into court on an leash. She sat quietly in the rear of her maid, Miss Betty Silbert, in during the hearing.

Judge Silbert, in denying the injunction, said: "The dog is inoffensive and quiet. In fact, she doesn't amount to much."

TRADE TREATY BILL RECEIVES FINAL READING

OTTAWA, April 3.—Winding up a debate which threatened at times to become acrimonious, the Senate last night gave third reading to the bill ratifying the Canada-United States Trade Agreement.

The Conservative opposition which in the upper house commands a majority, were not in favor of the pact. Senator C. G. Ballantyne (Montreal), leading the opposition, stated:

"Commemoration of the pact by Senator Raul Dandurand, Liberal leader, closed the discussion."

Telephone Lines To Be Taken Over
OTTAWA, April 3.—J. H. McCall and Roy C. Marler attended the meeting of the telephone company which is taking over Edmonton rural lines south of the Saskatchewan river.

A canvass will be made among the members, and it is expected that there will be a number of new subscribers. Any poles will have to be reset or renewed before the lines can be put in good shape.

Several farmers in this district are going in for alfalfa. Those dairy farmers who have used it this season find that cows milk much better and give a percentage of alfalfa than those fed entirely on greenfeed and chaff made from rootstock grain. One farmer said that his cows dropped almost fifty per cent in their milk when alfalfa was not fed during a period of one week.

Alfred Ottewill's sale scheduled for March 30, was postponed until April 7 on account of the severe cold.

HEPBURN WILL ASK DOMINION TO RECONSIDER

Ontario Premier is Disappointed Over Decision To Cut Relief Grant

TORONTO, April 3.—Declaring he was "terribly disappointed" at this unexpected announcement coming from the federal government, Premier Hespburn Thursday promised the Ontario legislature strong representation would be made by his government to the Ottawa administration to reconsider the decision to effect a 15 per cent reduction in its relief contribution to the provinces.

The premier's announcement is the end of what virtually amounted to a full-day debate on the Ontario relief amendment.

Since federal and provincial governments contributed dollar-for-dollar this means municipalities will suffer a 7 1/2 per cent cut but the federal government will be absorbing the half of the 15 per cent reduction.

EDUCATOR ASKS REVISION LOCAL SCHOOL SYSTEM

"A new and more useful system of education in our primary and secondary schools is essential if we hope to train our young people to take their proper place in society," declared Dr. M. E. LaRonde, School of Education, University of Alberta, in addressing the Optimist club Thursday morning. His subject was "Why Reorganize Education in Alberta."

"Today we are using an educational system which was devised for the conditions of twenty-five years ago. At that time, few pupils went into secondary schools but now eighty per cent of the grade eight pupils enter high school. This necessitates reconstruction of the entire educational system," Dr. LaRonde said.

NOT ENOUGH ZEST
"We have a high standard of education but there are certain deficiencies to be overcome. The pupils lose interest and after the first few grades the child will have to be trained to provide the necessary zest. This condition is unusual."

"The new system will attempt to give the child something which will interest him and will give him the zest which is missing."

Grand Champion Stallion Judged At Calgary Show

CALGARY, April 3.—Stamper, seven-year-old grey owned by Greenway and Clark of Irricana, Alta., was judged grand champion Percheron stallion at the Calgary spring horse show Thursday. Grand champion of the breed at last year's Regina World's Fair, the stallion also was best in the class for four-year-olds and over.

Elderly, seven-year-old black owned by W. C. Rickard of Calgary, was reserve champion besides placing second in Stamper in the aged class. Mr. Rickard's Fairview Marshall won the junior championship.

Grand and senior championships for females went to ballet, owned by Mrs. Anna Mae Hoagland of Calgary. Helen-Judy, owned by Mrs. Thelma House of Calgary, was declared reserve senior and reserve grand champion. Junior champion female was Fairview Marina from the Rickard stable.

Committed For Trial
FORT WILLIAM, April 3.—Gordon Blist, 22, was committed for trial Thursday on a charge of murdering Miss Mildred Johnston, 18, by strangling her in his home in the absence of his parents. The couple went to the home following a dance where they first met.

Scissors Daily At 82
MONTREAL, April 3.—Monday morning, Charles Hodgson, who observed his 82nd birthday Thursday, swam a mile and a quarter in an indoor tank here. "I've been doing it for 25 years," he said. He was born in York, England.

boy or girl who isn't fit for higher education something useful that will enable him to take his proper place in society.

"The proposed scheme will divide the educational program into three sections."

OLD FADS "OUT"
"The primary section will take the place of grades 1-6 and will have activity program as its keynote. Educational reformers since Plato have placed their finger on pupil activity. That is what the new system proposes to stress. The cold facts of geography and history will now be taught as part of the social studies in which the pupil will participate and in so doing will have to look up the facts. At the same time it will teach the pupil social co-operation. To do this, the old facts are essential," he said.

"The intermediate section, grade nine will be tied in with what is in the grade seven and eight. A taste of the higher grade subjects will be given plus music, art, manual training and the like in order to try and determine what the student's interests and capabilities are and then train him along these lines."

"In the high school there will be courses in drama, mathematics, literature, languages, manual training, household science, music and art. The student will have a wide variety of choices with the aid of a guidance director so that he may get the best possible training."

A CHANCE TO EQUALIZE

Spring being assumed to have arrived, certain evidence to the effect that the province along with the relief grants to the provinces are to be scaled down for the summer months.

For the four months December to March the grants were 75 per cent higher than before.
They are to be cut down 15 per cent, leaving the province about 60 per cent better off than a year ago.

This news arrives on the heels of an appeal from the city council of Edmonton to the Provincial Government, asking that the grant to this city be raised to equal that given to Calgary.

If the Government is agreeable to the proposal to equalize grants, it can be seen that Edmonton's grant is a little less than that along the reduction to the southern city.

LET MERCY SEASON JUDGMENT

The bill to impose a 2 per cent tax on the buyer when he makes a purchase in Alberta has been introduced in the legislature. The consumer will learn with a gleam of hope that not all commodities and not all purchases will be subjected to the tax. The bill provides that it will be allowed to buy certain things classed as "necessaries" without paying the tax.

Where the magic line will be drawn between necessaries and luxuries will be a matter of debate. It is where the tug-of-war will come. If ten persons were asked to make out lists of necessities
there would probably be ten quite different lists.
They got through. The members of the legislature may have an enlightening afternoon before they reach agreement on that good point of dispute.

It is to be hoped the exempted list will be drawn in a spirit of liberality. The people of this province are hard up, so hard up that a tax of 2 per cent will bring them to the verge of ruin. The merchants are having hard enough time to keep going without having trade killed by taxation on goods which they have stocked as articles of ordinary demand.

SIDE-STEPPING

The Social Credit Measures bill passed third reading in the legislature on Tuesday, without much change, and the measure was assented to by the Lieutenant-Governor.

To say this is the most sweeping measure ever placed in the statute book is to understate
the fact. It is difficult to imagine any measure by which the legislature could more completely divest itself of authority and responsibility in this matter at once than handing over blanket power to the Government.

Under this remarkable piece of legislation
the Ministers may set up a commission to go a-hunting for Social Credit schemes; may advise, introduce and enforce any scheme that suits their fancy; and do not have to come back to the legislature for approval or consent.

In the alternative, they may postpone the adoption of any scheme indefinitely, the legislature having virtually no right to call them to account. They may simply keep the legislature running for years, and the public waiting for the dividends, the legislature having relived itself of any further say in the matter.

It is rather to be supposed the Government supporters have "put one over" the Ministers, by handing them this power. The Ministers have the responsibility to implement the promises.
They can now go home and tell their anxious expectant constituents to blame the Ministers—not them—for the non-arrival of the dividends.

A QUESTION OF METHOD

The correspondence brought down at Ottawa confirms, what everyone knew to be the case, that the Government of the Dominion and the Governments of all the provinces are agreed that interest rates on provincial bonds are too high and will have to be reduced in the near future. The question is how to bring it about.

The provincial Governments, with the exception of Alberta and the possible exception of British Columbia, propose to work together and in co-operation with the Dominion through the general plan. The Premier of Alberta has to "go it alone," which he is doing by letting an issue of matured bonds into default and pulverizing a compulsory refunding bill through the legislature.

The Premier was entirely within his rights in choosing which method he would take. A provision is supposed to be self-devised in money matters, and the responsibility rests with him. Whether it is thought he chose wisely or unwisely, he had the right of choice, and is exercising it.

But he is not within his rights, nor in accord with the known facts, when he suggests in an interview that the Dominion is trying to put him "in the spot," and make him make the statement "There is nothing to do about it."

What he "can do about it" stands written in the correspondence. He could have got the interest rates, paid for bonds, and made the decision, but having made it, he is not entitled to impute hostile motives to anybody else who made it. If the Premier is "on the spot," he has put himself there.

He can still "do" that if he wants to. The only reason he has not done it is that he preferred to do the other thing. Being Premier, he was perfectly entitled to make that decision. But, having made it, he is not entitled to impute hostile motives to anybody else who made it. If the Premier is "on the spot," he has put himself there.

The Passing Show

By J. S. COWPER

How much to be envied are we folk in western Canada in our freedom from the heredity of modern war? We may face harsh weather, frosted crops, relief rosters, double taxation and uncertainty about our economic future, but we have no fear of being vorked into the small hours of the morning by incendiary bombs, or being bombed or snared
inside with mustard gas.

Compulsory Refunding Bill Gets Reading in Face Giroux Warnings

In the face of warnings by A. Giroux, Liberal, that a "grave omission" of the bill was that no maximum was provided in interest rates and by M. Duggan, Alberta Conservative, that the province, in reducing interest rates must first eliminate decreased revenues, the legislature on Thursday gave its second reading to the compulsory refunding legislation.

Although a division was required to defeat Mr. Giroux's amendment seeking establishment of a maximum interest rate, the motion to give a second reading was easily passed without a dissenting voice.

GIRoux SPOKESMAN
Mr. Giroux acted as the spokesman for the Liberal and Mr. Duggan for the Conservatives, while Mr. Charles Cockroft, provincial treasurer, advanced the government case.

Discussion of this legislation probably the most important in this session's heavy grid and one of the most important bills in the province's history provided the highlight of the Thursday session.

It was pointed out that the bill would be a measure to effect a refunding of the province's debt.

GOVERNMENT EMPLOYED
Under provisions of the bill the government is empowered to refund in whole or in part a principal sum of $100,000,000.

Mr. Giroux's amendment, providing a maximum interest rate was defeated by a vote of 30 to six.

MOVE AMENDMENT
A. Giroux, Liberal member for Graveland, opened the debate on the second reading of the bill.

Mr. Giroux: I have this bill before me, telling what the government intends to do with the bondholders.

Mr. Giroux: I have this bill before me, telling what the government intends to do with the bondholders.

happen in this province. Either we must refund under a national scheme, or face bankruptcy. We cannot solve the problem alone. Any attempt to do so will result in failure. It must be a national solution.

There are five billions of dollars of debt in Canada—federal, provincial and municipal. This year nearly $300,000,000 must be found in Canada to avert bankruptcy.

LIKE OLD QUESTION
Mr. Duggan: That is like the old question, "Have you stopped beating your wife?" (Laughter)

"I would say that a situation such as this has not been brought about in a day. It is the result of a long process initiated by members of the former government. Some of them were misled, but they continued to advocate a remedy. I would say that it is probable that the present government will have the pleasure of consuming what was started by the former government."

MAJOR BEFORE THE HOUSE
Mr. Duggan: I would like to see the bill. I would like to see the bill. I would like to see the bill.

QUEBEC, April 2.—The West-Toronto Nationals-Quebec Aces II, a freestyle light last night when Toronto was leading 6-3 three-quarters through an overtime period.

The fight ended the game, Toronto being declared winners. It was their second straight in the two-fifteen series and gave them 14th, to change French Little Jambler in the eastern junior final.

The teams had struggled through three periods and tied 2-2, and ended the third with the score deadlocked 4-4. Nationals had scored two goals in the overtime period when a fist fight broke out between Thorne of Aces and Jack Crawford of Nationals.

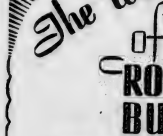

It developed into a busy scrap with all the players engaged and the crowd turning over the boards to take part in a general melee. Referee Jeff Mackay of Hamilton and George Talbot of Montreal, who were full of spirit, but finally managed to get off the ice.

yearly income of about $100,000 is collected by the federal government in this province in recent years, however, the subsidy has exceeded this amount in some years, reaching a million dollars. The stability and regularity of the subsidy as a source of revenue is a factor of considerable importance in our provincial finances.

I may say that no definite action has been taken with respect to the suggestion that the federal government collect our income tax. The only thought in mind was the possibility of saving for ourselves about $100,000 dollars in administrative costs by eliminating the duplication of machinery for the collection of income tax.

I am glad to have your suggestion in this connection, and can assure you that it will be borne carefully in mind.

Yours truly (Signed) Premier.

To the Honorable William Aberhart,
Premier of Alberta.

Dear Sir,
I am much obliged by your letter of the 12th inst. Without delay your letter in this matter, but have been covered in previous correspondence may I assure you that my concern with the Government of Alberta is on my part, as I feel it is in your interests, and I wish by a desire to forward the cause of the people to some extent, and are associated not merely in Alberta but over the rest of the world.

I am, however, anxious not to cause any controversy in this matter, but, on the contrary, to ensure that everything possible is done in the attainment of that end. As I have previously written, I wished to have had the opportunity to consult with you, so that in the present case of the letter, it might be taken to deal with the exposure of the strategy of the international financial monopoly.

(Signed) DOUGLAS.
Edmonton, March 12, 1936
To Major C. H. Douglas,
London, England.

Yours letter to come makes cooperation most difficult. We wholeheartedly accept the Social Credit principles underlying your suggestions. Government will co-operate fully with you in this regard.
(Signed) ABERHART.

To the Honorable Wm. Aberhart,
Premier of Alberta,
Edmonton, Alberta.
Dear Mr. Aberhart:
In order to avoid any possible misunderstanding, I am making clear to you the nature of the system of Social Credit in Alberta and the world as I see it. In order to emphasize the consistency of the view that I am putting forward, I have from time to time made a paper of my first interim report.

Since your election, you have taken the view that my function as Premier of Alberta is to provide a "Social Credit plan."
I am fully convinced that I can illustrate this attitude which I am alluding to by a homely simile. You appear to consider that the position in Alberta may be compared to the provision of an improved automobile, while I have consistently and honestly stated that there is a monopoly of gasoline and that I have from time to time made a paper of my first interim report.
